Penguin Loves Mev
In the UK

His Students

I'm attending a class once a week

GCSE English

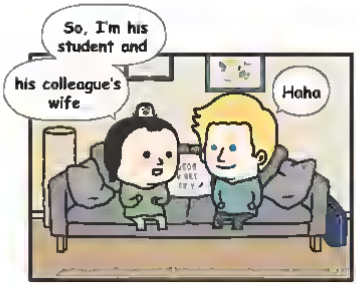
Because I'm studying
GCSE English

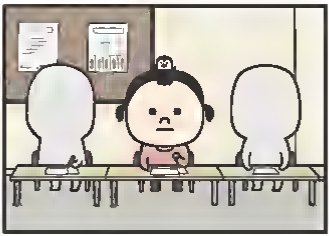
I started it without much thought.

To be honest,
I've started to regret it.

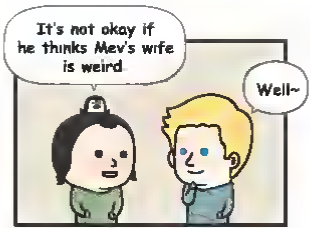
The main reason was...

My teacher is Mev's colleague who works in the same office.

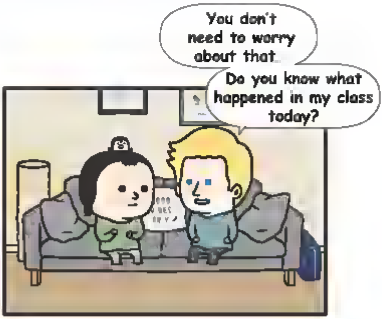




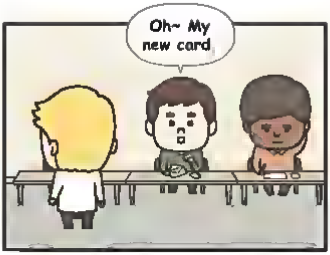
That idea made me be good in the class.



Then Mev told me

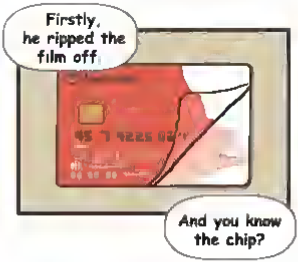


We had a test today.



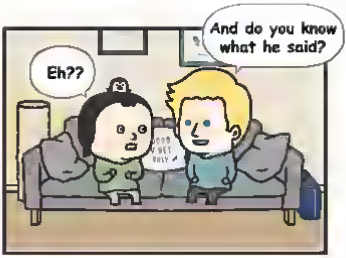
One student finished his test and was waiting for his friend.

He had received a new card from his bank. So he got his old card out of his wallet.

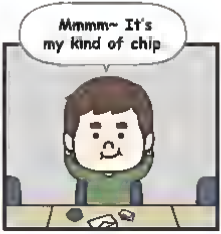


He took the out chip of the cord.

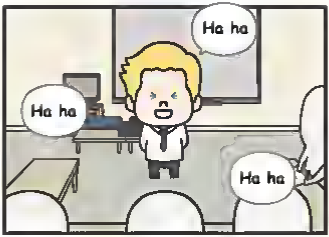
And then he started to chew it in his mouth.



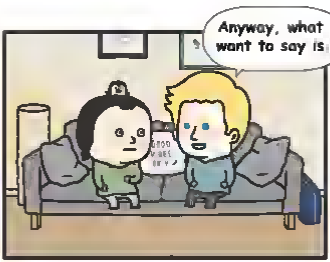
Eh??
And do you know what he said?



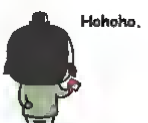
Mmmm~ It's my kind of chip



Well, everybody in the class laughed because of him.



When you're weird enough to eat up your bank card,
then you can be called weird.... Yeah....



Hohoho.
